

It is wonderful how much deference is being paid to the Farmer's Alliance just now. Everybody seems to have the impression that this the coming political party and those who have political aspirations are getting ready to get into office on the strength of sympathy with the new movement. There seems to be a great desire on the part of many to "get solid" with the farmers and thus the Alliance gets lots of favors granted to it. This was illustrated in the late legislature. Every law that the farmers wanted seemed to be greased and went through with scarcely a voice in opposition. Irrigation laws, horticultural laws, and increased appropriations for agricultural societies were passed and made. Laws fixing the rate of tare on baled hops, fixing the price of grain bags, giving bounties on coyote scalps and were passed "because the farmers demanded them."

One day in the Assembly a censure bill was under discussion. A prominent member had just made a violent speech against the measure. As he was about concluding a country member arose and said: "May I ask the gentleman a question?"

"Certainly."

"Do you know it to be a fact that the Farmer's Alliance demand the passage of this bill?"

"No! Is that so?"

"It is."

"Well then I have nothing more to say."

And he voted for the bill.

The farmers are certainly on top now.

The Minnesota Legislature propose to pass a bill abolishing not only tightness on the stage, but even low necked dresses and bare arms at social gatherings. Such a bill is an insult to the intelligence of the people, and must have been framed by a man whose morals are of such a weak mould that his brains under the most powerful microscope, could not be distinguished from the grey matter in the skull of a Billy goat.

The Elko Independent in noting the combination of the Gazette and APPEAL to drive the criminal class out of politics, says it is willing to stand in, but wants a little more light on the subject. The APPEAL can assure its Elko contemporary that whenever these scallaws attempt to bob up in public life it will get the necessary light.

This consoling item appears in Jim Townsend's paper at Lundy: A man writes to us from New York and wants us to find his father. We knew the person inquired for, nearly 40 years ago, and the last time we saw him he was playing a lively tune on his death-rattle, so there is not much use in trying to dig him up.

Whenever a California paper presents a bill to the Board of Supervisors for printing and advertising the other papers all howl that it is a robbery. Then they all wonder why official advertising rates are so low in California. They are kicked lower and lower every year and the papers themselves do it.

Hay is a drug in the Salt Lake market at the following prices according to the Tribune: Ten times the amount of alfalfa that is being offered is consumed. The market is quiet, sales slow, and these prices are being offered: Alfalfa baled, $3; wild hay, $9; upland, $10 and $11; timothy, $13 and $14—all on the track in this city.

We favor an entire repeal of the naturalization laws, and a high tariff on foreign labor as well as on foreign manufactures. That's the kind of an American we are.—New Castle News.

Some months ago the Wall street prophets predicted that silver was about to be driven out of the country. Now the gold appears to be starting for Europe on the dead run.
